NO SELFISH MOTIVE

Behind the Mill Tax Amendment Which Will Give the Rural Child Educational Advantages.

Until the time of election the voters of Missouri will be the victims of columns upon columns of advice on how to vote. Much of this advice already has been dispensed and some of it unfortunately, by conscienceless individuals and parties, representing in a large degree, selfish interests. In various sections throughout the state the voters have been advised to vote against every constitutional amendment in order to defeat certain ones.

Such schemes come only from the sordid, the selfish and ignorant, who are serving classes. Every voter should read all the arguments at his command and for each amendment; it is his duty to do so. Cast your vote intelligently or don't vote.

If you are for certain amendments scratch "no" and leave the "yes" unscratched, which is equivalent to saying "Yes, I want this." No plainer or more fair advice can be given. The amendments will be numbered. There are nine of them and it will be easy to remember the numbers of those you want. Do not permit anyone to influence you to defeat all the amendments without weighing them carefully. You would not want to vote against your children's interest by scratching "yes" on the school mill tax amendment. You want the rural children to have schools just as good as the city children have. Many of the amendments are worthy. Certainly there is no selfish motive behind the ninth which is the last and which will give the rural child the best of educational advantages, that he may never have to step aside to make way for his city cousins.

HAS HOPES FOR HADLEY.

Roosevelt Believes Missouri Executive Will Yet Be Won Over to His Cause.

Governor Herbert Hadley of Missouri, in the opinion of Colonel Roosevelt, as he expressed it Monday at Joplin, Mo., will join the Progressive party in the national campaign.

"I not merely hope, but believe," said Colonel Roosevelt, "that Governor Hadley will yet decide to stand with us."

Colonel Roosevelt saw nothing of the governor during his trip through this state. When he went to St. Louis to speak at the beginning of his tour, the statement was published that he had received a letter from the governor. The colonel would say nothing about it. There was an unconfirmed report today that Governor Hadley would soon make a public statement of his position.

Returned From Illinois.

Frank and Ollie Roney returned Sunday from Peoria, Ill., where they have been for the past ten days. They were called there with their father, Peter Roney, and two other brothers, Emmett and Leo Roney, by the serious illness of their mother, who had gone to Peoria several weeks ago for a visit with her brothers and sisters. Mrs. Roney had taken ill of rheumatism after her arrival but was not thought to be in a serious condition until a few hours before her death, when her husband and sons were telegraphed for. Her death occurred several hours before they reached Peoria, on Friday, September 13. The funeral services and burial took place at Peoria, the old home of the deceased. Mrs. Roney was of a family of 11 children and her death was the first among them. Her father and mother died about two years ago, leaving an estate of $700,000 to be divided among their children. Mrs. Roney was about 50 years old. Her maiden name was Agnes Scanlon. She was married 23 years ago to Mr. Roney and they have lived in Nodaway county ever since. Their first residence was near Quitman and the past ten years they have lived on a farm four miles north of the city. Four sons survive with Mr. Roney.

CONTRIBUTE TO CAMPAIGN.

Duty of Every Patriotic Citizen to Give if He Has Confidence in His Candidate.

Chicago, Sept. 23.—"I consider it the duty of every patriotic citizen to contribute according to his means to the national campaign fund of his party provided he has confidence in his candidate. We are as grateful for a dollar as for $10,000 when it represents a contribution commensurate with the donor's means, provided, of course, it comes from those who have no cause to serve other than the common good."

This was the statement of Rolla Wells, treasurer of the national Democratic committee, who came to Chicago Wednesday to confer with Secretary Joseph E. Davies and other officers of the western headquarters.

"Everyone knows that money is needed to run a campaign like this," said Mr. Wells. "Unfortunately the time between the convention and the election is so brief that everything must be done under high pressure. I firmly believe that if there was time enough sufficient money could be raised by small contributions from the people to finance the campaign, but as there is so little time, we have to solicit larger contributions from Democrats of means, to supplement the smaller gifts which the rank and file so generously are sending us."

"It is truly inspiring to observe the interest which the people are taking in this campaign. I am quite sure it is the intention of every Democrat to contribute something. It is human nature, however, to delay acting even though our intentions are the best. A great many have contributed voluntarily but I am sure there are thousands everywhere in this country who are just waiting to be asked. So we are going to devote a great deal of attention to personal soliciting of funds. We do not expect any one to give in large amounts; as I have said, we are grateful for anything the people may feel moved to give, not only because of the money but also because the contribution indicates interest in the cause."

Visited Friends in Town.

Mr. Woodson Reese of Kansas City spent Monday in Maryville with friends. Mr. Reese is a representative of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company of Akron, O.

DOPING OUT WORLD'S SERIES.

First Game Between Champions Will Be Played October 7th.

Local base ball fans are beginning to dope out the winner of the world's base ball series. It is conceded the Boston Red Sox in the American league have won the pennant, while New York, it is believed, will take the National flag.

Both these teams are strong and bets are now being made in the larger cities that the Red Sox will take the four games out of the seven to be played. The pitching staff of the New York team is conceded to be the best, while the stick work of the Boston team is expected to overcome all difficulties. Joe Wood, the former Kansas City Blue, who has been pitching remarkable ball this season, will be the main stay of the bean eaters. There are several other good pitchers on the Boston team and the dope given out now is that the coming series will be the best played in years.

Two games will be played in each city, the winner of the tossing of a coin will get the first game.

Both teams have a large following here, and it is expected some money will be bet on the coming series.

Rules for Measuring Corn.

There are many rules for measuring corn. Inquiries conducted by the Missouri state board of agriculture show the following in common use: Sixteen cubic feet of corn in the shuck (or if extra well settled, 15 feet) make a barrel. The number of cubic feet multiplied by the decimal .4 gives bushels. Multiply together the length, width and height of the pen or crib, in inches, and divide by 4,200 for old corn, or 4,300 for new corn, to get bushels. Where it can be done corn should be weighed, rather than measured.

Met With An Accident.

James Andrews of Clearmont had an accident while driving his automobile into Maryville last Saturday evening. Just as he passed Barmann & Wolfert's garage, he started to cross Main street when a man driving a team to a carriage, drove up to the corner. The team and the auto collided causing the team to run away, also causing some slight damages to the machine. Fortunately no one was hurt. The car was left at Barmann & Wolfert's repair shop.

Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson of Elmo went to St. Joseph Monday.

ORDERED GYPSIES OUT OF TOWN.

A Band of Them Were Camped Near Forsyth Slaughter House—Several Articles Missing.

Sheriff Tilson and Marshal Moberly ordered a band of gypsies that were camping near the Forsyth slaughter house to leave town at once, on Tuesday morning. Several robberies have been committed in the last few days, and it is thought that these people are the guilty parties, but no evidence was found against them. A pair of shoes were taken from a buggy uptown Monday afternoon and a pocket-book with $10 was taken from Solomon Clark on Monday evening at his repair shop.

There are eighteen in the camp, seven wagons and thirty horses. The gypsies left town at once and went in a northerly direction.

HUNTING SEASON IS OPEN.

Hunters Are Now Jubilant and the Game Wardens Are Kept Busy Nowadays.

The fall hunting season is open in Missouri. It is lawful now to kill ducks, geese, plover, brant, jacksnipe and doves for home use, but the season for other varieties of game does not open until a little later. The law on the open season follows:

"Periods certain birds may be killed—penalty: No person shall take, capture or kill, by any means whatever, any game birds except the following named game birds between the following dates: Wild turkey, November 1 to December 31; quail (bob white, partridge), from November 1 to December 31; duck, geese and brant, September 15 to May 1; deer, November 1 to January 1; doves, September 1 to January 1; squirrel, July 1 to December 21, and snipe, September 15 to May 1.

"The right to take or kill deer or birds during the open season is limited to one deer, two turkeys and twenty-five birds of any other family for each person in any one calendar day, and no person shall take, kill or have in his possession at any one time more than two deer, four turkeys and fifty birds of any other family.

"Anyone who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall, upon conviction thereof, be punished by a fine of not less than $25, nor more than $50 for each offense, and an additional fine of $5 for each bird injured, killed or possessed."

How One Farmer Cured His Horses.

The following is a letter published in the Omaha Bee, showing how one farmer cured his horse of sickness, which might be of interest to the farmers in this county:

"I thought it would do no harm to tell you of my experience with the dreaded horse disease. I have had five cases of it among my pasture horses in the last ten days, and have found in all cases that they were constipated and that they all had worms. I think it is worms that cause the disease.

"I gave one pint of raw linseed oil as physic, and if the horse is very sick, followed this oil up with half pint of whisky. This whisky will ease the horse and quiet the worms till the oil takes effect. I give it every hour till well cleansed out, then give some good worm expeller, but be sure they are well physicked before giving worm expeller, as I lost one by doing this, but I saved four and they are doing nicely now. I also had one that was not sick, but was constipated so bad it took two doses of oil to start him. Then I gave two doses of turpentine.

"I think it can easily be prevented before the horses are taken sick by giving the raw linseed oil in oats just a little at first till they learn to like it and will eat all you give them. Then give the worm expeller and I am sure you will not have any sick horses."

A BETTER PROGRAM

FOR NEXT YEAR IS THE DESIRE OF CHAUTAUQUA DIRECTORS.

JUDGE ELLISON AT HEAD

Elected President at Meeting of Chautauqua Board—Prof. Landon Re-Elected Secretary.

At a meeting of the Chautauqua board held last week, Judge W. C. Ellison was selected as president of the board of directors of the Chautauqua association, and Prof. P. O. Landon as secretary. There are now about 200 members of the association with a share of stock of $10 each, and the association will be incorporated at the next term of circuit court in November.

A program committee was selected to get busy at once on the talent for next year. The general opinion among the board members is to get a stronger program and better talent than was here last year, and it was thought best to get to work at once on the program. Efforts are to be made so as next year's Chautauqua will take rank with those given in this section of the country.

No time has been set for the Chautauqua, but it will probably be about the same in August as the last one.

HE WON THE PRIZE.

William Gaugh, Who Impersonated a Mexican Refugee in Parade Saturday.

The Daily Democrat-Forum, in giving a list of the prize winners in the children's parade Saturday afternoon, by mistake omitted the name of William Gaugh, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gaugh, who won the prize for the most original costume. He impersonated a Mexican refugee to the United States. His wagon cover was shot full of holes in his escape to this country for safety, one wheel was off and tied to the back of the wagon, and a general look of great trials and tribulations enroute. William was in regular Mexican dress, and he wore a sombrero sent him by Mrs. Curtis Alexander of San Luis Potosi, Chihuahua. One arm was in a sling and he certainly was entitled to the prize. He was the hit of the parade.

Vote for the Mill Tax.

Secretary A. P. Sandles of the Ohio state board of agriculture recently asked 1,747 Ohio farmers this question: "Do you advise young men to take a two or four-year course in agricultural college? Of this number 1,692 answered "yes." This illustrates that the farmers recognize the value of agricultural colleges. Missouri will have agricultural departments in her rural schools if the school mill tax amendment to be voted upon at the November election is adopted. It is important that special instruction be given to the tillers of the soil, who are the backbone of the nation, as it is to train men to become doctors, lawyers or experts at anything. In the rural districts today the farmer's boy does not get anything like a fair schooling in anything. When he leaves an inadequate rural school he is little better than an ignoramus. He has little practical information and is hardly able to read the daily papers, let alone absorb the meaning of the words. This is an outrageous injustice to the rural children and the parents. Many farmers are opposed to education simply because they have no speaking acquaintance with it. They do not know that trained brains means dollars and cents. Why should they know? Their judgment is based on what they see of nearby schools and the graduates thereof. It is a common thing to hear farmers condemned for their opposition to schools. This is wrong. They should condemn the class of schools they are acquainted with. These schools are unfit to be called state institutions, and are a disgrace to the nation. What can be learned at a rural school which has a yearly term of but four months? There are sixty schools of this sort in the state and 700 which have but six months terms.

Greatest Watermelon County.

Scott county, in Southeastern Missouri, is the greatest watermelon shipping county in the United States. Melons are shipped from there to almost every northern city of size in this country. Shipments are also made to Canada. From 900 to 1,100 melons make a car load, and they bring the grower an average of about $100 per car. Information compiled by the Missouri state board of agriculture, and which will be used in a bulletin, is full of interest. It is shown that one dollar alone handled 25,000 car loads of melons.

Hadn't Had Time.

Miss Sentimental—Charles, did you ever allow your mind to pierce the secret of the universe, to reason that this dull, cold earth is but the sepulcher of ages past, that man in all his glory is but the soil we tread, which every breeze wafts in an ever-shifting maze, to be found and lost in an infinity of particles—the dust of centuries, reunited and dissolving as long as time shall endure?
Charles—No-o, I dunno as I did. You see, I've had to earn my living.

Many Driven From Home.

Every year, in many parts of the country, thousands are driven from their homes by coughs and lung diseases. Friends and business are left behind for other climates, but this is costly and not always sure. A better way—the way of multitudes—is to use Dr. King's New Discovery and cure yourself at home. Stay right there, with your friends, and take this safe medicine. Throat and lung troubles find quick relief and health returns. It helps in coughs, colds and grip, croup, whooping cough and sore lungs make it a positive blessing. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by the Orear-Henry Drug Co.

Protection from loss by wind-storms, fire or lightning is business, either in country or city. You owe it to yourself and family. Consult me now for special rates and terms, or phone me and I will call.

Mrs. Champ Clark a Judge.

Mrs. Champ Clark, wife of the speaker of the national house of representatives, and whose defense of the Missouri ham is nation-wide, has accepted an invitation to act as one of the judges at the farmers' ham and bacon show to be held under the auspices of the Missouri state board of agriculture at Columbia during farmers' week, January 13 to 17, 1913. The prizes total $100. Entrance is free, and every farmer is invited to compete.

Mrs. Champ Clark was born on a Callaway county, Missouri, farm, and she says in her letter of acceptance to Secretary Wilson: "It is my proud boast that I have done several kinds of farm work that this generation wots not of. I planted 120 acres of corn myself one spring with the aid of Vandiver's corn planter and a driver. I hauled hay shocks and I can say that I have earned an honest penny for thinning corn, but not so many of them, for thinning corn was monstrous hard work. My reputation as an authority on hams was literally thrust upon me by an ambitious newspaper reporter of Washington, D. C., but true to my principles of getting all I can and holding fast to all I get, I have been introduced on so many occasions as the sponsor of the Missouri ham that I have absolutely grown to believe that I discovered it."

The correspondent to whom Mrs. Clark perhaps refers is the author of an article entitled "Ham, Sweet Ham," and which appeared in the Saturday Evening Post. This correspondent, in speaking of Mrs. Clark's Wednesday afternoons, says:

"The ham is always there, and so are the people, for Washington is densely populated with folks who will go long distances to get ham—or anything else that is free. Mrs. Clark brings her hams from Bowling Green, Mo. They are big, sweet, home-smoked hams, and she knows how such hams should be cooked."

Then the same correspondent goes on to tell how, when the guests are seated, Mrs. Clark says, "Ham, Genevieve," and that young lady proceeds to cut slices of ham and place them between slices of home-made bread, making a sandwich that is delicious.

It's a rather long and fine story, but after all there is a better treat in store for those who attend the farmers' week exercises at Columbia, January 13 to 17, and hear Mrs. Clark tell of Missouri hams as only she can.

Moving to Maryville.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Baker of St. Joseph are moving to Maryville this week to make this city their home. They have taken possession of the residence of Arthur C. Mr. Baker is representative for the St. Joseph News-Press in this section. Mrs. Baker's mother, Mrs. C. A. Peterson, formerly of Maitland, will arrive soon from Colorado to make her home with her daughter.

Word was received in Maryville Monday by Mrs. Elizabeth French that Dr. Bennett, formerly a resident of Bolckow, but now of Boulder, Col., suffered an attack of paralysis last week and is in bad health.

IN SEARCH OF BLUE ROSE

Modern Horticulturist Has Very High Ambitions, Says England's Premier Gardener.

To find a blue rose! That is the great ambition of the modern gardener, according to Sir Harry Veitch, England's premier gardener, who was recently knighted by the king, and the honor was well deserved, for no one in the world has worked more indefatigably for the development of horticulture, and no one has made more important discoveries. Indeed, in the course of his fifty years of business the gardening knight has introduced into this country many hundreds of plants.

For four generations his family has been associated with the romance of flowers—the late Mr. James Veitch was described as "the first nurseryman of his day"—and it was the Veitchs who began the policy of ransacking the world, especially the Equatorial world, for orchids and studied the reproduction and cross fertilization of foliage plants. Early in life Sir Harry made it his aim to become a sort of universal provider in the gardening world, and for years he has had travelers in all parts of the globe searching for rare plants.

Curiously enough, he considers that China is one of the most wonderful fields for work of this sort, and he mentions the fact that one of his travelers has lately come back from the celestial land after a three years' trip, in the course of which he got as far as Tibet and had to struggle for life with four bandits to preserve his specimens. The risk these travelers run for unknown flowers are often very great, and sometimes expeditions prove very disappointing. "It is fascinating work, however," says Sir Harry, "and has often led flower searchers into corners of the world which have never been trodden before by white men."

WHERE SEDAN CHAIR IS USED

The 3-Century-Old Vehicle Is Still Seen on May Day in Knutsford, England.

The news that there is a woman still living who rode in a Sedan chair is a reminder of the fact that there is one town in England where a Sedan chair is still used. It is at Knutsford, in Cheshire—the "Cranford" of Mrs. Gaskell. Every May day Knutsford arrays itself in gala attire. Sports are held on the village green, the May queen is elected and crowned, and—in order that no aspect of antiquity should be missing—the Sedan chair is produced.

Whatever may have been absolutely the latest date at which a Sedan chair was used, the chair, at any rate, had longer life than most forms of public conveyance. For it appeared in England as early as 1581, and in London fifty years later, when Sir Francis Duncomb obtained the sole privilege of letting and hiring them. Thus the Sedan chair was in use for roughly three centuries, and how many hand-oms are likely to be carrying passengers in 2133, which will be the tercentenary of their introduction?—London Chronicle.

Prehistoric Dinosaurs Found.

What is believed to be an important find of hitherto undiscovered species and genera of prehistoric land reptiles has just been made. Twelve fossils or skeletons of dinosaurs, among them two complete brontosaurs—the largest animals that have ever lived—were unearthed from the side of a cliff nine miles north of Jansen, Utah, in what was, in distant ages, a river; as the cobbles, mussel shells, and sand enveloping the bones showed. Besides these specimens of the extinct brontosaurus fossil, remains of several stegosaurs specimens were also brought to light. These, Mr. Hartley M. Phelps tells us, are very rare. The stegosaur was the most grotesque animal that ever existed. The brontosaurus often attained a length of 80 feet, but it had a small head. Its neck and tail were short. Like the stegosaur, it lived by eating succulent herbs. It had powerful legs, 10 feet or so in length. The diplodocus measured 70 feet long, had an immense body, powerful legs, and an enormously long tail and long neck, but a small head. It lived in swamps and ate waterweeds. Its remains have only been found on the slopes of the Rocky mountains.

The Explanation.

At a crab supper in honor of Thomas F. Ryan during convention week in Baltimore a congressman said, apropos of Mr. Bryan's attack on Mr. Ryan:

"I, for my part, am against this muckraking and mud slinging. Why should out public men be kept continually under the lash?"

There was a murmur of approval. Mr. Ryan held up his hand to quiet it, then smiled and said:

"After all, gentlemen, if you are in the public eye you must inevitably be under the lash."

A Frigid Atmosphere.

"Where you been?"

"Been to call on that Boston girl. And say!"

"Well!"

"Whenever I call on that girl I always feel like I had been farthest north."

Doubtful.

"Jones is extremely attentive to his wife."

"Still very much in love with her, eh?"

"Either that, or he is afraid of her."

NEW SPELLING IN ENGLAND

Board of Reformers Are Planning to Deliver Lectures Throughout the Country.

A campaign in favor of spelling reform is to be conducted in London and the provinces in the autumn and winter.

Mr. William Archer, under the auspices of the Simplified Spelling society, is to conduct a lecturing tour on his return from the east, and lectures will also be delivered by many other well-known men throughout the country.

The lecturers will advocate the reform of what they regard as the present "chaotic spelling," which they declare is so remote from pronunciation that it is no guide to the English language at all, and tends to degrade our speech.

The society desires to fix a standard of pronunciation of the English language throughout the empire.

It has been stated that the English people over seas, particularly in Australia and South Africa, are deviating so seriously from the general standard of speech prevailing in the mother country that the time might come when visitors from these parts of the empire might fail to make themselves understood in London.

Mr. Tate, director of education in Melbourne, has suggested several spelling reforms to which effect has been given in the official papers issued by his department. Discussions have taken place and the council of public education in Melbourne is addressing a letter to the president of the board of education in London urging upon him, in the interest of education, the necessity of a general adoption of a simplified reform spelling.—London Daily Graphic.

FRENCH PAPERS FOR SALE

Thief With Valuable Historic Documents on His Person Arrested in Madrid.

A French subject has been arrested in Madrid after trying to sell important historical documents stolen, without doubt, from some museum or French official center. The arrest was made by policemen, who had the man under observation, under the pretense of being probable buyers.

They found upon him the ratification of the secret treaty of peace between Louis XIV. and Philip IX. of Spain. This treaty, commonly called the Pyrenees Treaty, was signed in 1659, and terminated the war between France and Spain. In virtue of it Louis married the Infanta Maria Teresa, Philip's daughter.

Another document contains the marriage articles, in which the princess renounces all rights to the crown of Spain. Finally, the man exhibited a parchment signed by the emperor, Charles V. The documents present all the appearance of authenticity. The two former bear royal seals and the signatures of Maria Teresa, Louis XIV. and Philip IV.

The prisoner's body is covered with tattooed designs in colors, beautifully executed. He has deep scars on both his wrists.

New School Sanitation Plan.

A new idea in school sanitation has been tested by the medical director of Dartmouth college. About five years ago he began making bacteriologic examinations of the air of the college halls and recitation rooms, and soon found a great periodic variation in the number of bacteria colonies that developed on the culture media exposed in the usual shallow open dishes. He then adopted the plan of disinfecting with formaldehyde any room showing more than thirty-five colonies of clusters of any kind of bacteria to a dish. This custom has been continued, and the result has been quite striking, the cases of epidemic colds, influenza and bronchitis, among the students having been reduced about one-half.

An Applied Definition.

E. Trowbridge Dana, grandson of the poet Longfellow, who was recently married in Cambridge with a beautiful ritual of his own composition, said the other day to a reporter:

"If all couples gave to marriage the profound thought and reverence that my wife and I give to it there would be fewer mismatings."

"The average married pair, it sometimes seems to me, are like the Blinks."

"Pa," said little Tommy Blinks one day, "what's a weapon?"

"A weapon, my son," Blinks answered, "is something to fight with."

"Then, pa," said little Tommy, "is ma your weapon?"

Men and Women of World.

The total population of the world is now estimated at 1,700,000,000. This based upon the most recent censuses, which all civilized countries now take, with a careful estimate of the number of inhabitants of uncivilized lands. The proportion of the sexes is known for 1,038,000,000 of these, the ratio being 1,000 males to 990 females. The ratio varies considerably in different places. In Europe there are 1,000 men to 1,045 women; in America, 1,000 men to 984 women; in Asia, 1,000 men to 981 women; in Australia, 1,000 men to 967 women.

"Why, I thought you had a fine time all planned out."

One day, I decided to try some Cardui. It did so much for me that I ordered some more, and it cured me! Today, I feel as well as I ever did in my life."

The pains and the trouble are all gone. I feel like another person in every way. I wish every sufferer could know what Cardui will do for sick women."

A few doses of Cardui at the right time, will save many a big doctor bill, by preventing serious sickness.

It tones up the nervous system, and helps make pale cheeks fresh and rosy.

Thousands of weak women have been restored to health and happiness by using Cardui. Suppose you try it. It may be just the medicine you need.

NO SELFISH MOTIVE

Behind the Mill Tax Amendment Which Will Give the Rural Child Educational Advantages.

Until the time of election the voters of Missouri will be the victims of columns upon columns of advice on how to vote. Much of this advice already has been dispensed and some of it unfortunately, by conscienceless individuals and parties, representing in a large degree, selfish interests. In various sections throughout the state the voters have been advised to vote against every constitutional amendment in order to defeat certain ones.

Such schemes come only from the sordid, the selfish and ignorant, who are serving classes. Every voter should read all the arguments at his command to and for each amendment; it is his duty to do so. Cast your vote intelligently or don't vote.

If you are for certain amendments scratch "no" and leave the "yes" unscratched, which is equivalent to saying "Yes, I want this." No plainer or more fair advice can be given. The amendments will be numbered. There are nine of them and it will be easy to remember the numbers of those you want. Do not permit anyone to influence you to defeat all the amendments without weighing them carefully. You would not want to vote against your children's interest by scratching "yes" on the school mill tax amendment. You want the rural children to have schools just as good as the city children have. Many of the amendments are worthy. Certainly there is no selfish motive behind the ninth which is the last and which will give the rural child the best of educational advantages, that he may never have to step aside to make way for his city cousins.

HAS HOPES FOR HADLEY.

Roosevelt Believes Missouri Executive Will Yet Be Won Over to His Cause.

Governor Herbert Hadley of Missouri, in the opinion of Colonel Roosevelt, as he expressed it Monday at Joplin, Mo., will join the Progressive party in the national campaign.

"I not merely hope, but believe," said Colonel Roosevelt, "that Governor Hadley will yet decide to stand with us."

Colonel Roosevelt saw nothing of the governor during his trip through this state. When he went to St. Louis to speak at the beginning of his tour, the statement was published that he had received a letter from the governor. The colonel would say nothing about it. There was an unconfirmed report today that Governor Hadley would soon make a public statement of his position.

Returned From Illinois.

Frank and Ollie Roney returned Sunday from Peoria, Ill., where they have been for the past ten days. They were called there with their father, Peter Roney, and two other brothers, Emmett and Leo Roney, by the serious illness of their mother, who had gone to Peoria several weeks ago for a visit with her brothers and sisters. Mrs. Roney had taken ill of rheumatism after her arrival but was not thought to be in a serious condition until a few hours before her death, when her husband and sons were telegraphed for. Her death occurred several hours before they reached Peoria, on Friday, September 13. The funeral services and burial took place at Peoria, the old home of the deceased. Mrs. Roney was of a family of 11 children and her death was the first among them. Her father and mother died about two years ago, leaving an estate of $700,000 to be divided among their children. Mrs. Roney was about 50 years old. Her maiden name was Agnes Scanlon. She was married 23 years ago to Mr. Roney and they have lived in Nodaway county ever since. Their first residence was near Quitman and the past ten years they have lived on a farm four miles north of the city. Four sons survive with Mr. Roney.

CONTRIBUTE TO CAMPAIGN.

Duty of Every Patriotic Citizen to Give if He Has Confidence in His Candidate.

Chicago, Sept. 23.—"I consider it the duty of every patriotic citizen to contribute according to his means to the national campaign fund of his party provided he has confidence in his candidate. We are as grateful for a dollar as for $10,000 when it represents a contribution commensurate with the donor's means, provided, of course, it comes from those who have no cause to serve other than the common good."

This was the statement of Rolla Wells, treasurer of the national Democratic committee, who came to Chicago Wednesday to confer with Secretary Joseph E. Davies and other officers of the western headquarters.

"Everyone knows that money is needed to run a campaign like this," said Mr. Wells. "Unfortunately the time between the convention and the election is so brief that everything must be done under high pressure. I firmly believe that if there was time enough sufficient money could be raised by small contributions from the people to finance the campaign, but as there is so little time, we have to solicit larger contributions from Democrats of means, to supplement the smaller gifts which the rank and file so generously are sending us."

"It is truly inspiring to observe the interest which the people are taking in this campaign. I am quite sure it is the intention of every Democrat to contribute something. It is human nature, however, to delay acting even though our intentions are the best. A great many have contributed voluntarily but I am sure there are thousands everywhere in this country who are just waiting to be asked. So we are going to devote a great deal of attention to personal soliciting of funds. We do not expect any one to give in large amounts; as I have said, we are grateful for anything the people may feel moved to give, not only because of the money but also because the contribution indicates interest in the cause."

Visited Friends in Town.

Mr. Woodson Reese of Kansas City spent Monday in Maryville with friends. Mr. Reese is a representative of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company of Akron, O.

DOPING OUT WORLD'S SERIES.

First Game Between Champions Will Be Played October 7th.

Local base ball fans are beginning to dope out the winner of the world's base ball series. It is conceded the Boston Red Sox in the American league have won the pennant, while New York, it is believed, will take the National flag.

Both these teams are strong and bets are now being made in the larger cities that the Red Sox will take the four games out of the seven to be played. The pitching staff of the New York team is conceded to be the best, while the stick work of the Boston team is expected to overcome all difficulties. Joe Wood, the former Kansas City Blue, who has been pitching remarkable ball this season, will be the main stay of the bean eaters. There are several other good pitchers on the Boston team and the dope given out now is that the coming series will be the best played in years.

Two games will be played in each city, the winner of the tossing of a coin will get the first game.

Both teams have a large following here, and it is expected some money will be bet on the coming series.

Rules for Measuring Corn.

There are many rules for measuring corn. Inquiries conducted by the Missouri state board of agriculture show the following in common use: Sixteen cubic feet of corn in the shuck (or if extra well settled, 15 feet) make a barrel. The number of cubic feet multiplied by the decimal .4 gives bushels. Multiply together the length, width and height of the pen or crib, in inches, and divide by 4,200 for old corn, or 4,300 for new corn, to get bushels. Where it can be done corn should be weighed, rather than measured.

Met With An Accident.

James Andrews of Clearmont had an accident while driving his automobile into Maryville last Saturday evening. Just as he passed Barmann & Wolfert's garage, he started to cross Main street when a man driving a team to a carriage, drove up to the corner. The team and the auto collided causing the team to run away, also causing some slight damages to the machine. Fortunately no one was hurt. The car was left at Barmann & Wolfert's repair shop.

Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson of Elmo went to St. Joseph Monday.

ORDERED GYPSIES OUT OF TOWN.

A Band of Them Were Camped Near Forsyth Slaughter House—Several Articles Missing.

Sheriff Tilson and Marshal Moberly ordered a band of gypsies that were camping near the Forsyth slaughter house to leave town at once, on Tuesday morning. Several robberies have been committed in the last few days, and it is thought that these people are the guilty parties, but no evidence was found against them. A pair of shoes were taken from a buggy up-town Monday afternoon and a pocket-book with $10 was taken from Solomon Clark on Monday evening at his repair shop.

There are eighteen in the camp, seven wagons and thirty horses. The gypsies left town at once and went in a northerly direction.

HUNTING SEASON IS OPEN.

Hunters Are Now Jubilant and the Game Wardens Are Kept Busy Nowadays.

The fall hunting season is open in Missouri. It is lawful now to kill ducks, geese, plover, brant, jacksnipe and doves for home use, but the season for other varieties of game does not open until a little later. The law on the open season follows:

"Periods certain birds may be killed—penalty: No person shall take, capture or kill, by any means whatever, any game birds except the following named game birds between the following dates: Wild turkey, November 1 to December 31; quail (bob white, partridge), from November 1 to December 31; duck, geese and brant, September 15 to May 1; deer, November 1 to January 1; doves, September 1 to January 1; squirrel, July 1 to December 21, and snipe, September 15 to May 1.

"The right to take or kill deer or birds during the open season is limited to one deer, two turkeys and twenty-five birds of any other family for each person in any one calendar day, and no person shall take, kill or have in his possession at any one time more than two deer, four turkeys and fifty birds of any other family.

"Anyone who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall, upon conviction thereof, be punished by a fine of not less than $25, nor more than $50 for each offense, and an additional fine of $5 for each bird injured, killed or possessed."

How One Farmer Cured His Horses.

The following is a letter published in the Omaha Bee, showing how one farmer cured his horse of sickness, which might be of interest to the farmers in this county:

"I thought it would do no harm to tell you of my experience with the dreaded horse disease. I have had five cases of it among my pasture horses in the last ten days, and have found in all cases that they were constipated and that they all had worms. I think it is worms that cause the disease.

"I gave one pint of raw linseed oil as physic, and if the horse is very sick, followed this oil up with half pint of whisky. This whisky will ease the horse and quiet the worms till the oil takes effect. I give it every hour till well cleansed out, then give some good worm expeller, but be sure they are well physicked before giving worm expeller, as I lost one by doing this, but I saved four and they are doing nicely now. I also had one that was not sick, but was constipated so had it took two doses of oil to start him. Then I gave two doses of turpentine.

"I think it can easily be prevented before the horses are taken sick by giving the raw linseed oil in oats just a little at first till they learn to like it and will eat all you give them. Then give the worm expeller and I am sure you will not have any sick horses."

A BETTER PROGRAM

FOR NEXT YEAR IS THE DESIRE OF CHAUTAUQUA DIRECTORS.

JUDGE ELLISON AT HEAD

Elected President at Meeting of Chautauqua Board—Prof. Laudon Re-Elected Secretary.

At a meeting of the Chautauqua board held last week, Judge W. C. Ellison was selected as president of the board of directors of the Chautauqua association, and Prof. P. O. Landon as secretary. There are now about 200 members of the association with a share of stock of $10 each, and the association will be incorporated at the next term of circuit court in November.

A program committee was selected to get busy at once on the talent for next year. The general opinion among the board members is to get a stronger program and better talent than was here last year, and it was thought best to get to work at once on the program. Efforts are to be made so as next year's Chautauqua will take rank with those given in this section of the country.

No time has been set for the Chautauqua, but it will probably be about the same in August as the last one.

HE WON THE PRIZE.

William Gaugh, Who Impersonated a Mexican Refugee in Parade Saturday.

The Daily Democrat-Forum, in giving a list of the prize winners in the children's parade Saturday afternoon, by mistake omitted the name of William Gaugh, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gaugh, who won the prize for the most original costume. He impersonated a Mexican refugee to the United States. His wagon cover was shot full of holes in his escape to this country for safety, one wheel was off and tied to the back of the wagon, and a general look of great trials and tribulations enroute. William was in regular Mexican dress, and he wore a sombrero sent him by Mrs. Curtis Alexander of San Luis Potosi, Chihuahua. One arm was in a sling and he certainly was entitled to the prize. He was the hit of the parade.

Vote for the Mill Tax.

Secretary A. P. Sandles of the Ohio state board of agriculture recently asked 1,747 Ohio farmers this question: "Do you advise young men to take a two or four-year course in agricultural college? Of this number 1,692 answered 'yes.' This illustrates that the farmers recognize the value of agricultural colleges. Missouri will have agricultural departments in her rural schools if the school mill tax amendment to be voted upon at the November election is adopted. It is important that special instruction be given to the tillers of the soil, who are the backbone of the nation, as it is to train men to become doctors, lawyers or experts at anything. In the rural districts today the farmer's boy does not get anything like a fair schooling in anything. When he leaves an inadequate rural school he is little better than an ignoramus. He has little practical information and is hardly able to read the daily papers, let alone absorb the meaning of the words. This is an outrageous injustice to the rural children and the parents. Many farmers are opposed to education simply because they have no speaking acquaintance with it. They do not know that trained brains means dollars and cents. Why should they know? Their judgment is based on what they see of nearby schools and the graduates thereof. It is a common thing to hear farmers condemn for their opposition to schools. This is wrong. They should condemn the class of schools they are acquainted with. These schools are unfit to be called state institutions, and are a disgrace to the nation. What can be learned at a rural school which has a yearly term of but four months? There are sixty schools of this sort in the state and 700 which have but six months terms.

Greatest Watermelon County.

Scott county, in Southeastern Missouri, is the greatest watermelon shipping county in the United States. Melons are shipped from there to almost every northern city of size in this country. Shipments are also made to Canada. From 900 to 1,100 melons make a car load, and they bring the grower an average of about $100 per car. Information compiled by the Missouri state board of agriculture, and which will be used in a bulletin, is full of interest. It is shown that one dollar alone handled 25,000 car loads of melons.

Uncle Ezra Says

"It don't take more'n a gill of effort to git folks into a peck of trouble," and a little neglect of constipation, biliousness, indigestion or other liver derangement will do the same. Hadn't Had Time.

Miss Sentimental—Charles, did you ever allow your mind to pierce the secret of the universe, to reason that this dull, cold earth is but the sepulcher of ages past, that man in all his glory is but the soil we tread, which every breeze wafts in an ever-shifting maze, to be found and lost in an infinity of particles—the dust of centuries, reunited and dissolving as long as time shall endure?

Charles—No-o, I dunno as I did. You see, I've had to earn my living.

Mrs. Champ Clark a Judge.

Mrs. Champ Clark, wife of the speaker of the national house of representatives, and whose defense of the Missouri ham is nation-wide, has accepted an invitation to act as one of the judges at the farmers' ham and bacon show to be held under the auspices of the Missouri state board of agriculture at Columbia during farmers' week, January 13 to 17, 1913.
The prizes total $100. Entrance is free, and every farmer is invited to compete.

Mrs. Champ Clark was born on a Callaway county, Missouri, farm, and she says in her letter of acceptance to Secretary Wilson: "It is my proud boast that I have done several kinds of farm work that this generation wot not of. I planted 120 acres of corn myself one spring with the aid of Van-diver's corn planter and a driver. I hailed hay shocks and I can say that I have earned an honest penny for thinning corn, but not so many of them, for thinning corn was monstrous hard work. My reputation as an authority on hams was literally thrust upon me by an ambitious newspaper reporter of Washington, D. C., but true to my principles of getting all I can and holding fast to all I get, I have been introduced on so many occasions as the sponsor of the Missouri ham that I have absolutely grown to believe that I discovered it."

The correspondent to whom Mrs.
Clark perhaps refers is the author of an article entitled "Ham, Sweet Ham," and which appeared in the Saturday Evening Post. This correspondent, in speaking of Mrs. Clark's Wednesday afternoon, says:
"The ham is always there, and so are the people, for Washington is densely populated with folks who will go long distances to get ham—or anything else that is free. Mrs. Clark brings her hams from Bowling Green, Mo. They are big, sweet, home-smoked hams, and she knows how such hams should be cooked."

Then the same correspondent goes on to tell how, when the guests are seated, Mrs. Clark says, "Ham, Genevieve," and that young lady proceeds to cut slices of ham and place them between slices of home-made bread, making a sandwich that is delicious.
It's a rather long and fine story, but after all there is a better treat in store for those who attend the farmer's week exercises at Columbia, January 13 to 17, and hear Mrs. Clark tell of Missouri hams as only she can.

A bright, clean, glossy stove is the joy and pride of every housekeeper. But it is hard to keep a stove nice and shiny—unless Black Silk Stove Polish is used.

Here is the reason: Black Silk Stove Polish sticks right to the iron. It doesn't rub off or dust off. Its shine lasts four-times longer than the shine of any other polish. You only need to polish one-fourth as often, yet your stove will be cleaner, brighter and better looking than it has been since you first bought it. Use on your parlor stove, kitchen stove or gas stove.

Get a can from your hardware or stove dealer.
If you do not find it better than any other stove polish you have ever used before, your dealer is authorized to refund your money. But we feel sure you will agree with the thousands of other up-to-date women who are now using Black Silk Stove Polish and who say it is the "best

IN SEARCH OF BLUE ROSE

Modern Horticulturist Has Very High Ambitions, Says England's Premier Gardener.

To find a blue rose! That is the great ambition of the modern gardener, according to Sir Harry Veitch, England's premier gardener, who was recently knighted by the king, and the honor was well deserved, for no one in the world has worked more indefatigably for the development of horticulture, and no one has made more important discoveries. Indeed, in the course of his fifty years of business the gardening knight has introduced into this country many hundreds of plants.

For four generations his family has been associated with the romance of flowers—the late Mr. James Veitch was described as "the first nurseryman of his day"—and it was the Veitchs who began the policy of ransacking the world, especially the Equatorial world, for orchids and studied the reproduction and cross fertilization of foliage plants. Early in life Sir Harry made it his aim to become a sort of universal provider in the gardening world, and for years he has had travelers in all parts of the globe searching for rare plants.

Curiously enough, he considers that China is one of the most wonderful fields for work of this sort, and he mentions the fact that one of his travelers has lately come back from the celestial land after a three years' trip, in the course of which he got as far as Tibet and had to struggle for life with four bandits to preserve his specimens. The risk these travelers run for unknown flowers are often very great, and sometimes expeditions prove very disappointing. "It is fascinating work, however," says Sir Harry, "and has often led flower searchers into corners of the world which have never been trodden before by white men."

WHERE SEDAN CHAIR IS USED

The 3-Century-Old Vehicle Is Still Seen on May Day in Knutsford, England.

The news that there is a woman still living who rode in a Sedan chair is a reminder of the fact that there is one town in England where a Sedan chair is still used. It is at Knutsford, in Cheshire—the "Cranford" of Mrs. Gaskell. Every May day Knutsford arrays itself in gala attire. Sports are held on the village green, the May queen is elected and crowned, and in order that no aspect of antiquity should be missing—the Sedan chair is produced.

Whatever may have been absolutely the latest date at which a Sedan chair was used, the chair, at any rate, had longer life than most forms of public conveyance. For it appeared in England as early as 1581, and in London fifty years later, when Sir Francis Duncombe obtained the sole privilege of letting and hiring them. Thus the Sedan chair was in use for roughly three centuries, and how many hand-soms are likely to be carrying passengers in 2133, which will be the tercentenary of their introduction?—London Chronicle.

Prehistoric Dinosaurs Found.

What is believed to be an important find of hitherto undiscovered species and genera of prehistoric land reptiles has just been made. Twelve fossils or skeletons of dinosaurs, among them two complete brontosaurs—the largest animals that have ever lived—were unearthed from the side of a cliff nine miles north of Jansen, Utah, in what was, in distant ages, a river; as the cobbles, mussel shells, and sand enveloping the bones showed. Besides these specimens of the extinct brontosaurs fossils, remains of several stegosaurs specimens were also brought to light. These, Mr. Hartley M. Phelps tells us, are very rare. The stegosaurs was the most grotesque animal that ever existed. The brontosaurs often attained a length of 80 feet, but it had a small head. Its neck and tail were short. Like the stegosaurs, it lived by eating succulent herbs. It had powerful legs, 10 feet or so in length. The diplodocus measured 70 feet long, had an immense body, powerful legs, and an enormously long tail and long neck, but a small head. It lived in swamps and ate waterweeds. Its remains have only been found on the slopes of the Rocky mountains.

The Explanation.

At a crab supper in honor of Thomas F. Ryan during convention week in Baltimore a congressman said, apropos of Mr. Bryan's attack on Mr. Ryan:

"I, for my part, am against this muckraking and mud slinging. Why should our public men be kept continually under the lash?"

There was a murmur of approval. Mr. Ryan held up his hand to quiet it, then smiled and said:

"After all, gentlemen, if you are in the public eye you must inevitably be under the lash."

A Frigid Atmosphere.

"Where you been?"
"Been to call on that Boston girl. And say!"
"Well!"

"Whenever I call on that girl I always feel like I had been farthest north."

Doubtful.

"Jones is extremely attentive to his wife."
"Still very much in love with her, eh?"

"Either that, or he is afraid of her."

NEW SPELLING IN ENGLAND

Board of Reformers Are Planning to Deliver Lectures Throughout the Country.

A campaign in favor of spelling reform is to be conducted in London and the provinces in the autumn and winter.

Mr. William Archer, under the auspices of the Simplified Spelling Society, is to conduct a lecturing tour on his return from the east, and lectures will also be delivered by many other well-known men throughout the country.

The lecturers will advocate the reform of what they regard as the present "chaotic spelling," which they declare is so remote from pronunciation that it is a guide to the English language at all, and tends to degrade our speech.

The society desires to fix a standard of pronunciation of the English language throughout the empire.

It has been stated that the English people over seas, particularly in Australia and South Africa, are deviating so seriously from the general standard of speech prevailing in the mother country that the time might come when visitors from these parts of the empire might fail to make themselves understood in London.

Mr. Tate, director of education in Melbourne, has suggested several spelling reforms to which effect has been given in the official papers issued by his department. Discussions have taken place and the council of public education in Melbourne is addressing a letter to the president of the board of education in London urging upon him, in the interest of education, the necessity of a general adoption of a simplified reform spelling.—London Daily Graphic.

FRENCH PAPERS FOR SALE

Thief With Valuable Historic Documents on His Person Arrested in Madrid.

A French subject has been arrested in Madrid after trying to sell important historical documents stolen, without doubt, from some museum or French official center. The arrest was made by policemen, who had the man under observation, under the pretense of being probable buyers.

They found upon him the ratification of the secret treaty of peace between Louis XIV. and Philip IX. of Spain. This treaty, commonly called the Pyrenees Treaty, was signed in 1659, and terminated the war between France and Spain. In virtue of it Louis married the Infanta Maria Teresa, Philip's daughter.

Another document contains the marriage articles, in which the princess renounces all rights to the crown of Spain. Finally, the man exhibited a parchment signed by the emperor, Charles V. The documents present all the appearance of authenticity. The two former bear royal seals and the signatures of Maria Teresa, Louis XIV. and Philip IV.

The prisoner's body is covered with tattooed designs in colors, beautifully executed. He has deep scars on both his wrists.

New School Sanitation Plan.

A new idea in school sanitation has been tested by the medical director of Dartmouth college. About five years ago he began making bacteriologic examinations of the air of the college halls and recitation rooms, and soon found a great periodic variation in the number of bacteria colonies that developed on the culture media exposed in the usual shallow open dishes. He then adopted the plan of disinfecting with formaldehyde any room showing more than thirty-five colonies of clusters of any kind of bacteria to a dish. This custom has been continued, and the result has been quite striking, the cases of epidemic colds, influenza and bronchitis, among the students having been reduced about one-half.

An Applied Definition.

E. Trowbridge Dana, grandson of the poet Longfellow, who was recently married in Cambridge with a beautiful ritual of his own composition, said the other day to a reporter:

"If all couples gave to marriage the profound thought and reverence that my wife and I give to it there would be fewer mismatches."

"The average married pair, it sometimes seems to me, are like the Blinks."

"Pa," said little Tommy Blinks one day, "what's a weapon?"

"A weapon, my son," Blinks answered, "is something to fight with."

Men and Women of World.

The total population of the world is now estimated at 1,700,000,000. This based upon the most recent censuses, which all civilized countries now take, with a careful estimate of the number of inhabitants of uncivilized lands. The proportion of the sexes is known for 1,038,000,000 of these, the ratio being 1,000 males to 990 females. The ratio varies considerably in different places. In Europe there are 1,000 men to 1,045 women; in America, 1,000 men to 954 women; in Asia, 1,000 men to 981 women; in Australia, 1,000 men to 967 women.

Trying Ever Since.

"So your vacation is over. Where did you go?"
"Nowhere."

"Why, I thought you had a fine time all planned out."

SHE GAVE UP ALL HOPE

Physicians Failed To Help Mrs. Green, But She Finally Found Relief in Cardul.

Meetze, Va.—Mrs. J. C. Green of this place, says: "I suffered with womanly troubles so that I could hardly sit up. Two of the best doctors in our town treated me, and I tried different medicines, until I gave up all hope of ever getting well."

One day, I decided to try some Cardul. It did so much for me that I ordered some more, and it cured me! Today, I feel as well as I ever did in my life.

A few doses of Cardul at the right time, will save many a big doctor bill, by preventing serious sickness.

It tones up the nervous system, and helps make pale cheeks fresh and rosy. Thousands of weak women have been restored to health and happiness by using Cardul. Suppose you try it.

It may be just the medicine you need.
